Lawsuit against Eminence schools dismissed

BY MELISSA BLANKENSHIP
publisher@hclocal.com

The lawsuit against Eminence Independent Schools Board of Education regarding their recent tax increase has been dismissed.

Justin Atchison filed the lawsuit on the basis that EIS had passed the tax levy improperly following what he considered to be an inaccurate legal notice reflecting the previous tax rates, the compensating rate and the proposed rate and the funds realized from each.

“Our contention was that in the notice all of their numbers were wrong. You could not take their numbers and back them out and make the math work,” said Perry Arnold, Atchison’s attorney in the case. In testimony, Chay Ritter with the Kentucky Department of Education Office of District Support Services, told the court the sample notice provided to the Board was based on an unaudited financial report that provided an incorrect revenue amount. He also testified that KDE interprets the repeated use of “expected” in the statute regarding publishing these notices to mean funds anticipated and figures in the notice are at best an estimate or guess. Henry County Circuit Court Judge Karen Conrad ruled that “the Board is entitled to rely upon the KDE for guidance and did so in this instance and “the Board is in compliance...and provided the correct figure for the fiscal year 2013,” which satisfied the requirements of the statute.

Mayor provides updates

publisher@hclocal.com

At the rescheduled April meeting of the City of Campbellsburg, Mayor Rex Morgan provided the council with a few updates of ongoing projects.

Among them is the community center. Morgan advised the council that the drains have been installed in the lot beside the center, after the removal of a petroleum tank. Next steps include installing the playground equipment and pouring sidewalks. There is an issue with one of the playground slides being too close to the sidewalk, but the mayor felt as though that could be resolved easily enough.

“Everything’s going as planned, and nobody’s said anything about any problems that I am aware of,” Morgan said.

Also on the agenda was an update of the “old black schoolhouse.” Morgan told the council that after the last article printed in the Henry County Local, he was approached by a potential donor, who wishes to be anonymous at this point, who might support the costs of moving the building. And although where to place the structure is still a point of discussion, Morgan was pleased to know that the project could move forward.

“The key is we have some people with some financial backing,” Morgan said. “We want to get it on the historic registry so that it is advertised and people would come to Campbellsburg to see it, instead of just by chance seeing a sign to see that it’s here. Anything to purposefully get people to come here is a good thing.”

Costs to move the structure are estimated at between $8000 and $10,000, with additional monies needed to prepare a foundation at the new location. Morgan said he needs to firm up the costs, touch base with the state historical society, talk with the potential donor for a commitment, and approach the current owner with the city’s plan.

In other business:

- The city is currently considering an ordinance to address open burning in the city limits. Initial thoughts are to require residents to fill out an application to conduct an open burn, which would be approved by Campbellsburg Fire Chief David Noe. Noe would also be given the authority to

This was the second day of the Bluegrass Challenge, a ride that will take the riders from Covington to Nashville. The group rode 57 miles on Monday, stopping at The Galt House Hotel in Louisville.

A lifetime in Extension: Barbara Gregory

news@hclocal.com

For Barbara Gregory, Extension has been more than just a job or a weekend distraction. It has been a home away from home that has allowed her to further satisfy her natural desire to help others. A nurse and EMT by trade, Gregory has spent the majority of her life helping people and she said that her involvement with Extension, specifically 4-H has simply given her more opportunities to do that.

“I hope I [made a difference]. I know [the 4-H kids] did for me. They always give something back to you,” Gregory said.

Gregory has been involved in pretty much every way possible during her time with the Henry County Extension Office, since former agent Jim Prewitt recruited her in the 1970s. “We’re in agriculture, so I started with [Prewitt],” Gregory said.

“And then we had children, a son and a daughter that were in 4-H. And Steve Moore was hired almost immediately when our children started 4-H. So we got to be really good friends with him. So anything going on, we were always together.”

From 4-H to homemakers, to agriculture, Gregory has seen her share of involvement in everything that Extension has to offer. She has her favorite, though. “4-H,” she laughed. “[Because of] working with those children. You never, ever walked away without having a smile. And you look back to the Art Linkletter [television show] ‘Kids Say the Darndest Things.’ You always, always leave with a great feeling of, ‘I did something,’ you know? I made a child laugh, or taught them how to do something, or got them involved.”

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU TO BE ELECTED KY FBLA PRESIDENT?

FBLA gives kids a lot of opportunities. I learned that early. It's just an opportunity that opened up and I jumped at it. So far, I haven't gotten into it a lot, but it means a lot to me. FBLA has given me a lot. I've gotten to do a lot. I've gotten to go to California, and Dallas. So I'll be giving back to the organization and working behind the scenes this year.

WHAT ARE YOUR ASPIRATIONS AS PRESIDENT?

Well, I have three goals. One is to hopefully start a middle school chapter. We're basically high school now, but looking into that and checking into other chapters and how they do their middle school chapters. Hopefully that will increase our membership and get middle school students more involved. Secondly, I want to reach 9,200 members. Currently, we have 9,2139. And my third goal is to help members become college and career ready. And telling teachers and advisors and students how FBLA can help them become college and career ready.

PERSONALLY, WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS WHEN YOU GET OUT OF HIGH SCHOOL?

I want to become a funeral home director. I want to go to Mid-American College of Funeral Service. There's only about one school. And then I want to go into politics. I'm a Democrat, I go to a lot of democratic things.

WHY A FUNERAL HOME DIRECTOR?

My mother died when I was in the sixth grade, so death doesn't really affect me anymore. So that's just something I've wanted to do since then, to help people during that time. You get to see people every day and you work with people. And you make pretty good money. Really, my main goal is politics in the future. So that's just something to get me started and lead into my political career.

WHO WOULD YOU SAY IS YOUR POLITICAL ROLE MODEL?

Probably right now it would be Alison Lundergren Grimes. She's really done something that's never really been done, especially with her gender, being a woman and doing that. And she's really ignited the Democratic Party. She's got everyone excited and ready for the election. She's been a good role model for how to come up.

Bevin makes campaign stop

Candidate for the U.S. Senate Matt Bevin stopped by Scriber's Station restaurant in Eminence on Wednesday to speak with voters about the upcoming primary election. Afterward, he visited The Loft in Sligo. Here, Bevin (right) is pictured with Henry County High School student Laymon Durbin. Durbin is a member of the Political Science Club at HCHS, and said he hopes that Bevin wins so that someone can beat Democratic candidate Alison Lundergren Grimes.

make suggestions about conducting the burn safely, including denying the application if conditions were unsafe. The ordinance will be on the agenda for the May meeting.

•Police Chief Tony Rucker reported that several dogs had been reported stolen in the past few weeks. "These have been taken out of people's yards," Rucker said. "You might consider keeping an eye on your dogs."

•City Clerk Susie Tipton advised the council that recent state legislation will change how cities are classed throughout Kentucky. The intention behind the change is to potentially allow smaller cities greater access to programming and funding opportunities. Many of the details are still forthcoming on how this will affect Campbellsburg and other incorporated cities in Henry County.

Elect SHANDA SCRIBER-ARCHER for County Clerk

This county has been very good to my family, both socially and professionally. For generations we have valued this county and tried to make a difference. Both sets of my grandparents, Ralph & Lucille Tindall and Ezelle & Alma Scriber, farmed and raised their children here. Their values of God, family & the land run deep within me. Ezelle Scriber served as magistrate in Henry County for 32 years. My father, Jackie Scriber, retired from an organization dedicated to help fund state and federal projects for our county. My mother, Judy Scriber (Judy's Beauty Salon), has worked as a hairdresser and small business owner serving the community in many ways since she was 18. With role models like this, my husband of 21 years, Frank, and I decided early on that there is no better place to live and raise a family than right here in Henry County. We have three great kids, Stephen (freshman at Bellarmine University), Jessie (eighth-grader at HCMS), and Ryan (sixth-grader at HCMS).

I have a passion for Henry County and its people. I have found my life's work at the Henry County Clerk's Office. It allows me to be a part of something where I can make a difference each day.

I became a full-time deputy clerk with the Henry County Clerk's Office on April 1, 1997.

I have had excellent training under the direction of former Henry County Clerk, Rhonda Carpenter, and current Henry County Clerk, Juanita Lashley, whose leadership and support have been invaluable.

I promise to uphold the efficiency and integrity of the office. My seventeen years of on-the-job experience has qualified me to become your next Henry County Clerk. The current staff and I are dedicated to provide the high quality of service Henry County Citizens have come to expect.

Before the Primary Election approaches, I look forward to meeting as many of you as possible. Know that I have and will always be here to serve you, the people of Henry County.

Please feel free to contact me if you would like more information about me or my candidacy.

I know the importance of this place I call home!

I would appreciate your vote

At the root of her involvement, Gregory credits her drive to help people, saying that she became a nurse because of that desire and that she joined extension for the same reasons. She also said, though, that there's more to it than that.

"You can have a drive, but the energy it turns off is phenomenal," Gregory said. "And every day, you wake up and you say, 'this is what I get to do today.'" She added that she never thought of what she had to do. Rather, she thought of what she got to do.

Gregory has been attending 4-H camp for 28 years. In all that time, she said that she's learned that children never forget their mentors. "You may forget them," she said. "But they'll walk up to you and they'll never forget you."

Gregory also told a story of a boy named Eric, whom she met through 4-H camp. Eric was involved in the 1988 Carrollton Bus Crash that killed 27 people.

"I was one of the first ones on the scene that night," Gregory recalled. "From my house to the interstate was, like, seven minutes...And not knowing any of these children, I had had [Eric] in 4-H at some point...He was burnt to a crisp. And I'm walking around, doing triage. And this person, who's laying on the ground, charcoaled, looked over at me and said, 'Mrs. Gregory. Hi, Mrs. Gregory.' And I lost it. Of course, I didn't know he was going to be on that bus. Of course not. And we're in the middle of the night and he's laying out on the road and he knows me. But like I said, children never forget you if you're good to them."

In addition to her work with 4-H, Gregory has also worked with the Homemakers Association and the agriculture aspect of Extension. "I was Vice President for several years of the county [Homemakers Association]. And I was president of our home-maker's in Port Royal. Then, I was nominated for Farm Homemaker of the Year and got to go down to Atlanta."

Gregory has also received numerous Extension and 4-H awards for her service. The way she sees it, though, the awards were never the important part, as she has left her awards at the Extension Office, instead of taking them to her home. She also encourages everyone to be involved in local Extension activities.

"It's there, so why not take advantage of it? Learn from it," Gregory said.

Over the next few weeks, the Henry County Local will be doing a series of bios of past and present Extension Agents to celebrate the upcoming centennial of the Henry County Extension Office.

When he filed the lawsuit, Atchison hoped to force the Board to rescind the tax rate down to 4 percent, instead of the 10 percent increase the Board approved.

"I'm disappointed that we lost the battle, but I'm not as disappointed in the decision for me personally but for the taxpayers of Eminence that we weren't able to get their taxes lowered," Atchison said. "I'm disappointed the judge ruled the way she did and I don't believe the judge's decision was based on testimony."

Buddy Berry, EIS superintendent, said the judge's ruling validated the Board's actions.

"There were lots of accusations that we had not done things correctly," Berry said. "It is extremely validating that the judge's decision strongly concluded that the Board went above and beyond in every aspect of our process and policies. It speaks to our integrity. We did everything appropriately."

While his lawsuit was unsuccessful in reducing the tax levy, Atchison said that something positive did result.

"It brought more awareness to the public. Taxpayers are going to have to pay closer attention to everything the school board is doing because we've got school board members and a superintendent that have no regard for the public's opinion," Atchison said. "If they actually cared what the public thought then they would have let the tax levy go to a public vote."

"I have nothing against children, nothing against the Eminence education process. I think it's a great school," Atchison added. "I have a problem with elected officials thinking they can just levy whatever tax they want to on the public with no one questioning it."

Filling in while filling vacancy

Turnover in the workplace is always difficult. While a position is vacant, others on staff have to fill in the gaps left by the recently-departed — on the job, not this world.

Invariably, someone has to work overtime, not everything gets done and sometimes things get missed, either unavoidably or accidentally.

When turnover happens at a business as small as the Henry County Local, it is especially painful. While searching for a replacement for Brad Bowman, who has gone on to a better place — on the job, not this world, I have filled in as editor. Ably assisted by our new reporter, Will Phillips, we've managed to push a paper out each week. Will has done an incredible job, especially in light of the fact that he is a senior in college, just about ready to graduate. His plate has been very full and he's done an excellent job of taking care of his business and our business, all at the same time.

Fortunately for us and for our readers, there is a light at the end of this turnover tunnel.

We will soon be joined by a seasoned newshound, Chris Brooke. Chris comes to us as a Landmark Community Newspapers, Inc. transfer from a sister paper in Galax, Va. He has nearly 20 years of experience and a proven track record as a journalist.

He has already done his homework on Henry County. When I called him for an interview, I offered to meet him halfway, but he felt as though it was important to come to the area that he might be covering. He came early and spent some time walking around several of our towns then ate lunch in a locally-owned restaurant, all in an effort to get a feel for the county.

When we sat down to talk, he and I shared similar views on the goals of the newspaper and agreed on some changes that need to be made and on some aspects that should stay the same. I liked him immediately and I think you will, too.

Even though he's not on the payroll yet, Chris is already working here — in a sense. Below, you will find a column he's already written just to introduce himself to the community. I really like that kind of personal accountability. It bodes well, don't you think?

He's also keeping up with our goings-on by checking our website, offering a few comments here and there regarding our content. I really like that kind of initiative. It also bodes well, don't you think?

Chris will start here at the Local in mid-May, so you'll have to put up with me for just a little bit longer as the fill-in. Of course, I love it here, and I hope that Chris will foster a love of this community as well.

It looks like he's already moving in that direction. Please join me in making him feel welcome here.

Coming soon, a new editor

Have you ever heard a situation summed up in one word that couldn't be put any better in a lengthy speech?

In my 19 years as a reporter, I couldn't count the number of "Times" that's out there on the banner of periodical print products. It's probably also not news to readers that more than a few publications named "the news" exist.

But there's only one informational outlet that I've ever found called "the Local."

This singular title fits perfectly with the mission of the newspaper.

The way I see it, there's no greater grassroots product than a newspaper that's grounded in community life.

That kind of publication will share the hopes and aspirations of readers and residents.

Whether it's about a high scoring Henry County football player, about a quilter who's creations look more like art than something that should go on a bed, about a student that ends up at an Ivy League college or about what's going into the buildings being renovated across from the courthouse, it's the newspaper's job to bring these kinds of touchstones to the public's attention.

After all, these pieces about friends, neighbors and family will mean more here than any place else.

The names in the paper won't be quite so intriguing to folks 30 or 40 miles down the road.

The Local works here, of course, to facilitate conversations between people and institutions. To answer questions that the residents want to know.

As the new editor of the Local, I look forward to learning about the cities and the county by getting involved and by reading submissions.

And that's where the readers come in — send us news tips, announcements, happenings and pictures.

That includes information like benefit dinners, birth announcements, church functions, school dances, engagements, historic photos, etc.

Tell us who you admire and who you're proud of. Tell us what you like and what you think.

Your input will help the Local better serve you and the community.

Hello, I must be going...

In my first column a year ago I said that what "made me decide to write this column—is observing the slow and painful decline of our greater community." Community has been a frequent subject in my columns. Why is it so important? I'll let a friend of mine from the Port Royal neighborhood tell you: "...when community falls, so must fall all the things that only community life can engender and protect: the care of the old, the care and education of children, family life, neighborly work, the handing down of memory, the care of the earth, respect for nature and the lives of wild creatures."

In one column I cited three factors that should be the focus of our economic development efforts: education, sustainability and reviving our small towns—as opposed to pointlessly praying for a small manufacturing plant or two. If a business owner looks at us to open or relocate a business, she needs to know whether we offer a good balance between work and life. Are there welcoming neighborhoods? What about your school system? Everyone offers tax breaks to prospective businesses, but that has nothing to do with quality of life.

Broadly put, more money means better education. The consequences of low tax rates are struggling schools.

It continues to baffle me that we have not taken advantage of our agricultural heritage and strongly embraced the sustainability movement. It's a no-brainer.

But here's one good thing: the opening of the corporate behemoth in Eminence has generated three local pharmacies in Campbellsburg, Eminence and New Castle.

JOSEPH*yates*
Average Joe

On the other hand, now rising from the "gouged moonscape" in Eminence are two shiny new islands of commerce that connect to nothing and stand for even less. "We have become accustomed to living in places where nothing relates to anything else, where disorder, unconsciousness and the absence of respect reign unchecked." The Geography of Nowhere (James Howard Kunstler)

When you think about it, a fellow in Eminence can, in the course of performing his Saturday errands, hop in his car and leave his house (in a sidewalk-less subdivision), pick up his McNothing burger and fries at the drive through, deposit his paycheck at the bank window, get his cholesterol medicine from the extended arm of the nice lady at the new pharmacy before driving by the liquor store to pick up that twelve-pack of Moose Drool Ale for this afternoon's game. Lastly, he slides the check for his water bill into a slot under what used to be a train-ticket window at City Hall. Is it not the height of irony that it only becomes necessary for him to remove himself from his vehicle in order to put gas in it?

There are glimmers of hope in Pleasureville. Commissioner Mertz speaks volumes with this simple statement: "People love side-walks. They love walking and getting around..." It is absolutely none of my business, but you guys need to join the Main Street program.

I have also addressed some political issues—I've pretty much said all I can say. My outlook is gloomy. I predict that the Kentucky House of Representatives will fall under Republican control, as will the United States Senate—an absolute disaster—locking up Washington's status as a protection racket for the one percent. I would also like to note that the most significant thing I have learned from writing this column is that any disparagement whatsoever of Ronald Reagan automatically results in a responsive guest column.

During my tenure of letters, I have been accused of being a Marxist, among other things. I must now confess that indeed I am, and I will leave you with this from my favorite Marx, Groucho:

Hello, I must be going. I cannot stay—I came to say, I must be going. I'm glad I came, but just the same I must be going.

I'll stay a week or two—I'll stay the summer through... But I am telling you...I must be going.

*Before you go, will you oblige us?
And tell us of your deeds so glowing?*

I'll do anything you say, In fact I'll even stay... But I must be going.

Students gain insight while promoting awareness

MELISSA BLANKENSHIP/LOCAL

For their senior service project, this group of HCHS students promoted handicap accessibility awareness and raised funds for Friends for Michael. The students hosted a wheelchair basketball tournament and collected donations Saturday at the Park Place Park in New Castle. Students involved included: James Heitzman, Dakota Sizemore, Loren Stoops, Anna Moore, Hannah Elmore, Julia Gregory, Samantha Heilman, Dustin Brock, Audreanna McClain, Tyler Dougherty, Nick Barnsfather and Brandon Valentine. Also pictured above are their teachers and several guests who attended the event.

news@hcllocal.com

A group of Henry County seniors has been learning what life is like for those among us who are disabled. Led by Anna Moore and Brandon Valentine, the group is raising money and raising awareness for the challenges of the handicapped.

"We wanted to get people in wheelchairs, to see how difficult it is to get around in wheelchairs, and the challenges [the handicapped] face every day," Valentine said.

The group organized an event over the weekend which included wheelchair basketball, food and a silent auction. Valentine, who played in the basketball game, said that it was much harder than he thought it would be. "It was tough," he laughed.

"I didn't even play basketball," Moore chimed in. "I just raced around and I was tired.

I don't know how the boys did it." Along those same lines, they said that the group wasn't prepared for how difficult it can be just to get around in a wheelchair.

"We have two people in wheelchairs in our group," Moore said. "And they were saying how much trouble they have getting up the ramps. And we only have one ramp in the school. Our friend Tyler has a manual wheelchair and he can't even get up it. So we have a ramp, but he can't even get up it by himself."

Due to various reasons, the group was unable to give money to the school to increase mobility for handicapped persons, so they decided to donate to the charity Friends For Michael instead. "They [specialize in] spinal cord injuries," Moore said. "So we chose them. And we've raised $606 so far. And we're still raising money until May 15."

"If someone in the community needs money for a wheelchair or something like that, they'll help pay for that," added Valentine.

Overall, the students have considered this a learning experience. Valentine said that he's been surprised at how supportive the community has been.

"It's amazing how much they'll help. If you go out and ask, I mean, there are 12 of us and we raised $600. It's just amazing how, if you really try, you can raise something. Honestly, I didn't really think we were gonna do much when we found out at the beginning of the year that we were gonna do something."

According to Moore and Valentine, the experience has made them more aware of their role in the community and has helped them see that they can make a difference.

"It made us really realize that we could do something for the community when we try," Moore said. "Because this is the first time I've ever done something, just me, without the school's help."

"I'm still realizing how much they have to do," Valentine said, regarding the plights of his friends who are wheelchair-bound. "I thought that going through the whole event and looking up everything that I realized. But you still don't realize until you get into a wheelchair."

The group will be presenting the results of their work on May 15 at Henry County High School as a part of their Senior Service Project.

For their senior project, a group of HCHS students chose to create a benefit for the Animal Shelter. On Saturday, they hosted an adoption event, accepted donations of money and items to use at the shelter, and educated children about humane treatment of animals through games and activities. They also auctioned three doghouses, two of which had been made by the students. Students involved included Breana Webb, Alex Morris, Bre Handley, Tyler Singleton, Kelsey Sanders, Lexie Bender, Jessica Holcomb, Dana Cauble, Landon New, Isaac Steverson, Ashley Craigmyle and Vernon Baker. Above, the McCoun family adopted Grimm, a hound-dog mix who was the first dog to find a forever home at the event. At right, Breana Webb and Alex Morris took care of Merle, who had been sponsored for adoption and was offered free to a good home. Far right, Anna Martin left the event with a pink puppy dog painted on her cheek.

HCHS AFJROTC DINING OUT

MELISSA BLANKENSHIP/LOCAL

This year's Air Force JROTC cadets from Henry County High School capped off their program year with their annual Dining Out. The celebration provides an opportunity to share their accomplishments, thank their supporters, recognize their seniors and have a little fun doing it. Above, Keith Sunkle reacts to his first look and smell into the infamous Grog Bowl, an unknown mysterious concoction cadets are made to drink if they have broken the rules of the mess.

The Color Guard opened the evening's activities. They were soon followed by several toasts then the "Missing Man" ceremony to honor prisoners of war, those missing in action and soldiers killed in action.

Right, Breana Webb, who served as the president of the mess, seemed to take great pleasure in sending her fellow cadets to the Grog Bowl.

Below, the Grog is a mixture of liquids and semi-solids placed in a bowl under a toilet seat. Cadets who have broken rules throughout the year must go to the Grog Bowl, drink at least a third of a cup, then place the cup upside down on their heads.

Lt. Col. Mark Fassio, who started with Henry County's AFJROTC program 14 years ago, was thanked by Sgt. McClure for his time, dedication and his compassion. Lt. Col. Fassio, a cancer survivor, was the keynote speaker of the evening, sharing his experiences over the past year and stressing the importance of faith, perseverance, patience and attitude.

Grazing school helps livestock owners maximize potential

Henry County's rolling topography has always made this a great place for raising livestock, partly because our land is well suited for grazing and making hay.

The Kentucky Grazing School, May 21-22, at the UK Research Farm near Versailles, is designed to give livestock farmers the latest information to help them maximize total production capability for their farm.

Several of our producers have attended the Master Grazer and Horse Owner Grazing Schools we've held over the past few years, and survey results tell us they have greatly benefitted. Here is the chance to get an intensive course and

UK COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE
University of Kentucky – College of Agriculture

Extension Notes

find out how to make the most beneficial strategy for your farm.

Research and observation tell us that every extra day grazing during the year is cheaper than feeding stored/purchased feed. While we are likely not able to graze year round, some strategies can get us to a goal of 300 grazing days per year, having to feed hay only 2 months.

To do this however, requires much attention to the animal needs and at the same time knowing how to properly care for the needs of the plant. The Grazing School will focus on ruminants (beef, dairy, sheep, and goats), but horse enthusiasts may benefit from the program also.

The list of instructors for the Grazing School is stellar. You'll be learning from forage specialists like Dr. Garry Lacefield, Dr. Ray Smith, and Sid Brantley. Livestock specialists

Dr. Jeff Lehmkuhler, Kevin Laurent, and Dr. Michelle Arnold will join fencing specialist Jeremy McGill in helping understand the livestock side of the equation.

A pre-registration is required. We have sign-up material available at the Henry County Extension Office at 845-2811.

DECEASED FARM ANIMAL DISPOSAL

While I expect most livestock producers know this, I want to remind everyone that Henry County Fiscal Court maintains a contract with Harmon Bros., Inc. of Warsaw, to operate a Deceased Farm Animal Disposal Program for the County.

At present, all pickups are at no charge to the farmer- the cost is borne by a partnership funding effort by the Fiscal Court, the Henry County Conservation District, the Henry County Farm Bureau, and the Henry County Agriculture Development Council.

Over 250 Henry County farmers have utilized the 'Dead Wagon' service by calling Harmon Bros. at 859-567-2111. If you are raising livestock, you need to keep this number by your house phone and in your 'smart' phone. Once you make the call, you'll be asked the specific location, and you'll be asked to get the deceased animal to an area of the farmstead easily accessible to the truck or trailer.

While nobody wants to have to use this service, in the livestock world it is inevitable that some animals die. Using this service helps insure that the unpleasantness which accompanies these deaths is kept to a minimum.

While this service is free for Henry County farmers, livestock producers in a majority of Kentucky's counties pay for the service, and some do not even have this service.

You can thank the leadership and membership of the organizations listed above for continuing to provide this important service.

Celebrating a century of service through Extension

For the past 100 years, the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service has focused on improving the quality of individual and family life through education, research and outreach. The history of the Cooperative Extension Service is evidence of its growth and sustainability in Kentucky.

In 1922, the first formal "home demonstration clubs" were formed in Kentucky. In 1939 Bina Baird Foree started the first club in Henry County at Franklinton and the second one at Jericho. Today, the organization is known as the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association.

The 1940s and 1950s were decades of growth, and home demonstration agents reached audiences through new media including radio and television broadcasts. As technol-

Through its educational programs, Family and Consumer Sciences Extension reaches more than 1.9 million Kentuckians of all ages and walks of life. Upholding that tradition requires that resources keep pace with changing societal needs. The Family and Consumer Sciences Legacy Fund was created to have an impact at the university, county, state and national levels. You have the unique oppor-

Plant a tree, save a tree

Conservation in Progress

The Henry County Conservation District provides tree seedlings on an annual basis to the fourth grade students in the county school systems to observe Arbor/Earth Day.

The district utilizes any opportunity available to impress in the minds of our youth the vital importance of conservation of our Henry County natural resources. The district purchases different species that will thrive here and the Kentucky Division of Forestry matches the order with white pine seedlings. After distribution to the schools, the remainder are offered on a first come basis to anyone who wishes to 'plant a tree' to beautify their property.

These little trees must be packaged in moistened newspaper and bagged in plastic sleeves for the child's transportation to their homes. This is a messy, time consuming process.

We are fortunate to have Lindsey Davie, Henry County High School Agriculture teacher and some of her students to help accomplish this project. The group this year went above and beyond to accomplish a task in a short period of time. The district is very grateful to these young people for their willingness to help.

Parents: help your fourth-grader plant and take care of their trees!

WILL PHILLIPS/LOCAL

On Saturday night, the seniors of Eminence High School Class of 2014 celebrated their prom at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville. They flooded the dancefloor, enjoying their big night together. The theme for prom was Old Hollywood. After prom, all the students participated in Project Prom.

Showcase highlights senior projects

Please join us at Henry County High School on May 14 and May 15 for our Senior Service Showcase, a celebration and recognition of the efforts and achievements of our seniors this year as they have raised awareness and/or donations for their self-selected causes and organizations. You will be inspired and amazed at what they have been able to accomplish, together.

Each group will present a digital documentary depicting their group's journey – successes, yes, but also struggles—as they've worked together with the help of Social Media to collaborate with one another and to reach a national and global audience. Presentations are scheduled simultaneously, with each group's presentation taking approximately 20 minutes. You are welcome to come for just one or to stay for them all!

Immediately following each digital presentation, the presenters will direct you to the Media Center, where you can view the group's Senior Service Board, pick up informational take-home materials, and have some light refreshments. While there, we ask that you complete a short Feedback Form for any/all groups you observed to provide some constructive feedback on their digital documentaries, presentational skills, and display boards.

Groups presenting on May 14 include: Henry County Breast Cancer Awareness & HCHS Diabetes (4:30 to 4:50 p.m.), Active Autism and HC Animal Awareness (5 to 5:20 p.m.). On May 15, the following groups will present: Homelessness Awareness and Youth Empowerment (4:30 to 4:50 p.m.), Handicap Accessibility and Helping Hands for Troubled Youth (5 to 5:20 p.m.), Socks 4 Seniors and Henry County Conquering Child Hunger (5:30 to 5:50 p.m.).

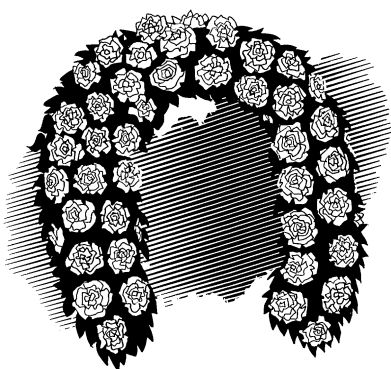

Services provided to children

All children can learn, but some learn differently. Some children need more help than others because they have a disability.

We can help by accepting individual differences: at home, at work, and at school. The Henry County Public Schools and Eminence Independent Schools urge you, through "Child Quest," a campaign to help locate children ages 3-22, who are not presently receiving services, give every child a chance to learn.

If you have or know of an infant, toddler, child, or youth who has a disability and is not getting needed special help, please call the Henry County School District at (502) 845-8607 and ask for Tricia Hosey, Special Education Director.

If you are in the Eminence Independent School District, call (502) 845-5427 ext. 4062 and ask for Regina Wallace, Special Education Director.

The tax roll is in the office of the property valuation administrator in the county courthouse and may be inspected between the hours 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Any taxpayer desiring to appeal an assessment on real property made by the PVA must first request a conference with the PVA or a designated deputy. The conference may be held prior to or during the inspection period.

After the conference with the PVA or designated deputy, any taxpayer still aggrieved by an assessment on real property may appeal to the county board of assessment appeals.

The taxpayer can appeal his assessment by filing in person or sending a letter or other written petition stating the reasons for appeal, identifying the property and stating the taxpayer's opinion of the fair cash value of the property.

The appeal must be received in the county clerk's office no later than one work day following the conclusion of the inspection period.

A taxpayer failing to appeal to the county board of assessment appeals, or failing to appear before the board, either in person or by designated representative, will not be eligible to appeal directly to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

Appeals of personal property assessments shall not be made to the county board of assessment appeals. Personal property taxpayers shall be served notice under the provisions of KRS 132.450(4) and shall have the protest and appeal rights granted under the provisions of KRS 131.110.

The following steps should be taken when a taxpayer does not agree with the assessed value of personal property as determined by the property valuation administrator.

(1) He must list under protest (for certification) what he believes to be the fair cash value of his property.

(2) He must file a written protest directly with the Department of Revenue, Office of Property Valuation within 30 days from the date of the notice of assessment.

(3) This protest must be in accordance with KRS 131.110.

(4) The final decision of the Department of Revenue may be appealed to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

Child Find for Children with Disabilities in Need of Special Education or 504 Services

CHILD FIND – MAY 12, 2014

The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District keeps educational records in a secure location in each school and Board office.

The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District obtains written consent from a parent or eligible student (age 18 or who is attending a postsecondary institution), before disclosing personally identifiable information to an entity or individual not authorized to receive it under FERPA.

For students who have been determined eligible for Special Education, educational records will be destroyed at the request of the parents when they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District may destroy the educational records of a child without parent request seven years after they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. Parents are advised that data contained in the records may later be needed for Social Security benefits or other purposes. The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District may retain, for an indefinite period of time, a record of the student's name, address, telephone number, grades, attendance records, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed.

Children eligible for Special Education include those children with disabilities who have autism, deaf-blindness, developmental delay, emotional-behavior disability, hearing impairment, mental disability, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment, other health impairment, specific learning disability, speech or language impairment, traumatic brain injury, or visual impairment and who because of such an impairment need Special Education services.

Children eligible for 504 services include those children who have a current physical or mental impairment that currently substantially limits some major life activity which causes the student's ability to access the school environment or school activities to be substantially limited.

The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District has an ongoing "Child Find" system, which is designed to locate, identify and evaluate any child residing in a home, facility, or residence within its geographical boundaries, age three (3) to twenty-one (21) years, who may have a disability and be in need of Special Education or 504 services. This includes children who are not in school; those who are in public, private, or home school; those who are highly mobile such as children who are migrant or homeless; and those who are advancing from grade to grade, who may need but are not receiving Special Education or 504 services.

The district's "Child Find" system includes children with disabilities attending private or home schools within the school district boundaries who may need special education services.

The Eminence Independent and Henry County School District will make sure any child enrolled in its district who qualifies for Special Education or 504 services, regardless of how severe the disability, is provided appropriate Special Education or 504 services at no cost to the parents of the child.

Parents, relatives, public and private agency employees, and concerned citizens are urged to help the Eminence Independent and Henry County School District find any child who may have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. The District needs to know the name and age, or date of birth of the child; the name, address, and phone number(s) of the parents or guardian; the possible disability; and other information to determine if Special Education or 504 services are needed.

Letters and phone calls are some of the ways the Eminence Independent and Henry County School District collects the information needed. The information the school District collects will be used to contact the parents of the child and find out if the child needs to be evaluated or referred for Special Education or 504 services.

If you know of a child who lives within the boundaries of the Eminence Independent and Henry County School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education or 504 services, please call 845-5427 ext. 2213 (Eminence) or 845-8607 (Henry Co.) or send the information to:

"Child Find" activities will continue throughout the school year. As part of these efforts the Eminence Independent and Henry County School District will use screening information, student records, and basic assessment information it collects on all children in the District to help locate those children who have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. Any information the District collects through "Child Find" is maintained confidentially.

Written Policies and Procedures have been developed which describe the District's requirements regarding the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and "Child Find" activities. There are copies in the Principal's office of each school, and in the Board of Education office. Copies of these Policies and Procedures may be obtained by contacting:

pitch and we started to get deep into our pitching staff because it was our fourth game in five days. Western Hills is a good hitting team and they took advantage of our situation. They got a bunch of hits and then we made some errors and it kind of snowballed.

"I knew the kids would have a letdown after the Owen game because it was a big game but we have to learn how to compete under all circumstances."

"Ethan Tuggle had another nice game at the plate with two hits. He was five for seven on the day."

Gallatin Co. 9 HCHS 5

The Henry County Wildcats traveled to Warsaw on April 22 and took on the Gallatin County Wildcats in an important district seeding game. The Wildcats pushed five runs across in the game, but could have had more with timely hitting, and gave up four unearned runs that proved to be the difference in a 9-5 victory for Gallatin County.

The Wildcats opened the game well with Landon New leading off with a base hit. Brad West followed and reached base on an error. Ethan Tuggle sacrificed New and West into scoring position. After a strikeout for the second out of the inning, Tyler Robbins walked to load the bases. Dylan Adams then reached when Gallatin County tried for the force out and failed, which allowed New to score. But the potential big inning went no further as Gallatin got a strikeout to end the inning.

Gallatin County went ahead in the bottom of the second with two runs on two hits and a Henry County error. They added three more in the third to go up 5-1. The host Wildcats got four hits in the inning with two walks and a hit batter.

Henry County got at least one runner on in the second through fourth innings but could not push across a run.

Meanwhile Gallatin County added to their lead with a run in the fourth to make the score 6-1.

Henry County finally broke loose for two runs in the fifth when New led off with a base hit and scored on a triple by Brad West. Mason Fish's groundout scored West from third but was the second out of the inning and the rally ended with Gallatin County getting a big strikeout.

Gallatin County came back with two unearned runs in their half of the inning to make it 8-3.

The visiting Wildcats had a chance for a big inning in the sixth when Adams and Blake Prather were walked to start the inning. Bodie Clark followed and reached on an error to load the bases. Isaac Kent followed with another walk to score Adams and the Cats still had the bases loaded with no outs. New hit a groundball to shortstop that was thrown to second to force out Kent while Prather scored to make it 8-5. The Cats still had runners on first and third with one out but the rally ended as the Cats could not get another hit.

Gallatin County added a run in the bottom of the inning to make it 9-5 when the leadoff batter was hit by a pitch and stole second and third base. With one out another batter was hit before the first base runner scored on a groundout to shortstop.

The Cats got back-to-back two-out singles in their final at-bat but could not bring home either runner and Gallatin County walked away with their second victory of the season over Henry County.

"The game basically came down to getting hits with runners on base," Henry County Coach Stuart Dill said. "We played pretty well defensively with just two errors but one of them was a big one on a misplayed bunt that set them up for a big inning. Offensively, we did not hit as well as we have been. We had opportunities but we just could not get the big hit with runners on base. But Landon New and Brad West did hit the ball well at the top of the order."

Shelby County 10 HCHS 5

The host Shelby County Rockets took advantage of the Wildcats' pitching staff's control problems to win on April 23.

Henry County trailed

4-0 going into the fifth inning after giving up two runs in both the first and second inning.

The Wildcats hit eight batters and walked three on the night.

"All of their runs to that point came off walks and hit batters," Dill said. "Then they scored six in the fifth and again it was because of walks and hit batters."

Trailing 10-0 the Wildcats rallied in the sixth for five runs as they benefitted from walks and a hit batter themselves. They scored their runs with benefit of only two hits by West and Tuggle.

The Wildcats also had four errors in the game, which accounted for the fact that only two of the Rockets' runs were earned.

"Offensively we had some opportunities earlier in the game but we could not come up with the big hit with runners in scoring position," Dill said. "We had a big sixth because we took advantage of an opportunity when Shelby made an error with two outs. Blake Prather and Ethan Tuggle hit the ball well with two hits apiece."

Two HCHS athletes honored for resilience

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hcclocal.com

Two Henry County High School athletes, Ashton Pennington and Matt Sallee, have been named to the 2014 tom-leachky.com All-Resilient Team. According to a press release from tom-leachky.com, the team honors Kentucky high school student-athletes who overcome adversity in order to participate in their favorite sports. Pennington is a senior who played for the Lady Cats' basketball team and Sallee is a freshman on the Wildcats' football and track teams. Pennington has overcome severe knee injuries that made her miss most of her freshman and sophomore seasons and limited her minutes as a junior. Pennington suffered from loose patellar tendons, which allowed her kneecaps to dislocate easily. After her first knee dislocation as a freshman it was determined that she would need surgery to correct the issue. Her right knee was surgically repaired in March of her freshman year. Pennington suffered a similar injury in her other knee before her sophomore season started and she ended up having the left knee repaired in December.

The surgeries involved shortening the tendons to make them tighter and caused her to miss her entire sophomore season. During her junior season Pennington suffered a great deal of pain because of the tightened tendons. Because of this her minutes on the court were very limited. According to her coach, Todd Gilley, Pennington played at about 60 percent during that season. Pennington remembers that it was a tough road back to playing the game she loves. "The summer of my junior year was the hardest," Pennington said. "I couldn't even run up and down the court. I was out of shape and the tendons were stretching out so my knees hurt all the time. The doctors had told me it would be very painful. I considered giving up, but my mom and dad told me to keep with it. "I finally started feeling normal again in the summer of my senior year. It was the first time playing without pain since my freshman year." "Not only did she come back and play, but she was a big contributor to our team this year," Gilley said. Sallee was born without bones in his lower leg and has used a prosthetic leg since he was a toddler. He is a lineman for the football team and participates in throwing events and high jump for the track team. Sallee has never considered not playing sports. In an article in the Oct. 24, 2012 issue of the Henry County Local Sallee said, "I guess it's not as bad when you're born with it as when you are an adult and lose a leg and have to relearn everything." "Henry County is honored to have two athletes on this team," Gilley said. "They are typical of the students this school gets. I think they are indicative of the type of people we have in our community and the type of kids we have at our school." Henry County High School was the only school to have two athletes chosen to the team this year. There were 21 other student-athletes from across the state on the team. James Mason of Anderson County, Tee Salinas of North Oldham and Chris Latimore of Walton-Verona were other 8th Region athletes who made the team. The All-Resilient team was honored at the Kentucky High School Athletic Directors Association's annual banquet Thursday night at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium. Both HCHS students were humble about the recognition. "I was surprised about it," Pennington said. "I didn't even know this existed, but I feel very honored." "I was really surprised and really honored," said Sallee. "It was cool that two of us from Henry County made it."

while Coach Sheron took Cravens to the Eastern Relays held at the University Of Louisville's track com-

The boys' team finished fourth in the meet without their usual leading scorer as Jesse Potts led the way with strong performances in the 100 and 200 meter dashes and Finley won the 110-meter hurdles. Freshman Coleman Stanley had a surprise fourth place finish in the discus in the absence of Cravens. Ethan Smith was Henry County's other top performer with a third place finish in the 1600-meter run. Cathryn Fischer led the girls' team with a second place finish in the 300 hurdles as the team finished 7th overall. Katie Miller threw a personal record 70 feet in the discus to finish third and Sophie Hughes was the team's next best performer with a fourth in the 800 meter run. Sheron who attended the Eastern Relays with Cravens, said Assistant Coach Shelley Medina was pleased with the team's effort. As for Cravens, Sheron was pleased that the sophomore got the experience of throwing at the site where the state meet is held. "He didn't throw his best but it was a great experience for him to see that kind of competition," Sheron said. "I was very pleased with his effort."

"We played mostly fifth-graders and three seventh-graders. We have improved and the girls are eager to learn and we are coming along but it is going to take time."

Martin was complimentary of the sportsmanship shown by the Lady Cats and Coach Kasten.

"I appreciate what Jon has done," Martin said. "He could have beaten us a lot worse, but he understands what we are going through."

Gallatin Co. 4 HCHS 3

The Lady Cats lost another heartbreaker to the Gallatin County Lady Wildcats on April 22.

The Lady Cats jumped out to 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning when Cheyenne Clark tripled to right field with one out to score Aly Stanley who had walked to start the game and DeBurger who had reached on a fielder's choice.

Gallatin County got one run back in the bottom of the second. The Lady Wildcats leadoff batter reached on a single to left field, stole second and third base and came home on a throwing error.

Henry County came back to score a run in the top of the third inning. Stanley reached on an error by the centerfielder and made all the way to second base. She advanced to third on a groundout by DeBurger. After Mikaela Cline walked and then took second base, Clark singled to score Stanley. Cline was thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on the play. Clark was also thrown out trying to advance to second on the throw to home plate.

Gallatin rode the momentum of the big defensive plays to end Henry County's third inning rally by scoring three more runs in the bottom half of the third. The Lady Wildcats scored their runs on two hits, two Henry County errors and an intentional walk.

The Lady Cats threatened in the fourth inning when Olivia Whaley reached third on a hard shot off the right fielder's glove with one out and again in the sixth inning when Ray and Whaley reached base with two outs but could not get another run as the home team held on for the one-run victory.

Kasten sounded a familiar theme when talking about another close one that got away from his team.

"I thought we played pretty well with the exception of three or four plays," Kasten said. "We held their big hitters in check, pitched the ball really well and made good contact at the plate. Aly, Olivia and Cheyenne all had good nights at the plate. Cheyenne had all three RBIs for us."

"We've been beaten twice now by Gallatin by one run," he continued.

"I hope we get to play them again and can play error free. If we could do that, I really believe we will beat them."

HCHS 6 Conner 2

The Lady Cats played in the Western Hills Invitational over the weekend and opened with a win over the Lady Cougars. The Lady Cats slugged out five extra base hits and 10 hits overall to get the win.

Madison Rabourn started the scoring with a two-out solo home run to centerfield in the second inning.

The Lady Cats got their second run in the third when Olivia Whaley doubled with one out and Cheyenne Clark doubled with two outs.

Henry County added four more runs in the fourth with three singles, a walk and a two-RBI double by Clark.

Conner got on the board with two in the bottom of the fourth but the Lady Cats got the Lady Cougars out in order in the fifth to win the five-inning game.

Stanley pitched a gem in giving up only three hits in the game, all of which came in the fourth inning. She struck out four and walked only one batter.

"We played a very good game against Conner," Kasten said. "Our defense was sharp, Aly pitched great, and we hit all the way up and down the lineup. It was a great all-around performance."

HCHS 7 Western Hills 6

The Lady Cats' hot hitting continued in the second game on Friday night as they scored seven runs in a game that was shortened to four innings due to the time limits put on tournament games.

The Lady Cats did most of their damage in a six-run second inning as they sent 10 batters to the plate. Whaley had a two-run double to finish off the big inning.

Western Hills got one back in the third inning before they rallied in the top of the fourth for five runs to tie the score.

But the Lady Cats were the home team on the scoreboard and got one last at-bat and they made it pay off.

Katie James led off with a walk, before Stanley bunted for an infield hit to give the Lady Cats runners on first and second with no outs. Olivia Whaley hit a grounder to shortstop that forced James at third base before Cline singled sharply to centerfield to load the bases.

Clark, who had a big night at the plate followed with a game-winning RBI single to centerfield. Clark was three for six in the two games with four RBIs.

Kasten was pleased that his team continued to hit the ball well.

"We started off just as hot against Western Hills as we did against Conner," Kasten said. "And Aly was pitching great. We did a very good job defensively in this game as well. "

Kasten, however thinks his young team still has to learn how to put games away.

"In the fourth we struggled to make plays," he said. "With a big lead we need to do a better job of realizing that all we have to do is make outs before the other team catches us in runs. We got a little tight as the game got closer and made some mistakes. But Cheyenne delivered in the bottom of the inning to score Aly from third."

Conner 11 HCHS 1

On Saturday the Lady Cats faced Conner again in the semifinals of the tournament and the Lady Cougars turned the tables on Henry County. Conner scored six runs in the first inning and never looked back as they cruised to an easy victory.

The Lady Cougars went on to win the tournament crown.

Kasten was terse with his comments on the team's performance Saturday.

"Saturday was just as bad as Friday was good," Kasten said. "We struggled from the first pitch and were mentally out of the game before we batted in the first inning. We got into a hole and could never get ourselves out of it. It wasn't a good game for any of us."

WARRIORS

Walton 10 EHS 0

Walton jumped on the Warriors for six runs in the first inning and cruised to the 10-run win in five innings.

"All six runs came with two outs," Virgin said. "We missed a foul pop up that would have been the final out and then seven straight hits and a walk later we are down 6-0. Austin Jones pitched well after that but we couldn't get any offense going. Austin had two hits and Jalen had one and that was it. We had several hard-hit balls right at people and one that hit a runner and cost us an out."

Virgin remained upbeat about the team's progress.

"We are getting there," he said. "We have a way to go but we're showing improvement every game. The pitching is getting better but we have to eliminate the errors and play better defense. We have to be more aggressive at the plate."

Owen Co. 14 EHS 4

Despite falling behind 11-0 after three innings Virgin was impressed with his team's improvement against Owen County on Thursday in Owenton. The Warriors rallied for four runs in the final two innings and cut down on the strikeouts against the Rebels.

"I know this may sound weird but I was actually pleased with the way we played, offensively," Virgin said. "We only had three strikeouts in the game. We swung the bats well early in the game but didn't generate much offense until later in the game. Our pitchers were suffering a little bit from sore arms and that got us in trouble as we got deeper into the rotation, but I was pleased with the way we hung in and kept competing."

The Warriors cut the lead to 11-4 in the fifth inning after scoring a single run in the fourth. Hayden Hoofman singled to lead off the fifth and Jones followed with a double. Dixie drove on the runs with a double of his own and eventually scored on a RBI by Golden.

The Rebels came back for three more runs to end the game in the bottom of the fifth.

"I was pleased because I saw improvement in the areas that have been really hurting us which were aggressiveness at the plate and defense," Virgin said.

Wildcats sweep Rebels with 5-2 win

Fall to Western Hills, Gallatin and Shelby

BY GREG WOODS

The Henry County Wildcats baseball team traveled to Owen County Saturday for a double-header against the Rebels and the Western Hills Wolverines and split the games getting an important 5-2 district win against Owen County and falling hard to the Wolverines, 15-0.

The Wildcats started the day with a good overall performance against the host Rebels who had their ace, Jarrod Ball on the mound.

The Wildcats scratched out enough hits and plays to get Ball for two runs in the fifth inning to take a 3-2 lead. They added a couple of insurance runs in the seventh as Brad West went the distance for the second time in seven days to get the win.

Owen scored in the first inning to take an early lead before Henry got one back in the third inning. But the Rebels answered back in the bottom of the inning to retake the lead.

After a scoreless fourth inning for both teams, Henry County took the lead in the fifth. Ethan Tuggle had the big hit to drive in both runs and end Ball's day on the mound.

"Tuggle had a big day at the plate," Coach Stuart Dill said. "He got all of our offensive rallies started and he had the big hit in the fifth. We didn't really hit that well but we found a way to scratch out enough runs.

"Brad got another complete game against them even though he didn't have his best stuff. He just got the job done.

We had a good game defensively to back Brad up," Dills continued. "Dakota Estes had some nice catches in right field. He had really big play where he caught what would have been a base hit and threw to first to double off a base runner."

The Wildcats were in the game for three innings before the wheels fell off in the fourth.

Trailing just 3-0 going into the fourth, the Wildcats saw the Wolverines reel off 12 runs through the last four innings to take an easy victory.

Dill felt the team had a letdown after the big win over Owen County.

Warriors drop slugfest to Iroquois 16-8

Travis Bell-3 hits, 3 stolen bases and 3 RBI vs. Iroquois.

Fall to Walton, Owen

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

The Eminence Warriors baseball team traveled to Iroquois High School to play the Raiders in what turned out to be an offensive breakout for both teams. Unfortunately a late-inning rash of errors and walks opened the door for the Raiders to pull away for the 16-8 win.

The Warriors opened the game by scoring four runs in the first inning and eventually built a 6-0 lead. Heading into the fifth inning, Junior pitcher Cole Lawson was cruising on the mound, allowing only two hits and striking out seven before some untimely defensive mistakes led to trouble. Before the inning was over the Warriors found themselves down 9-6.

The Raiders added seven more in the sixth to make it 16-6 before the Warriors got two in the seventh to set the final margin at eight runs.

Travis Bell had a good day at the plate for the Warriors with three hits, a stolen base and three RBIs. Mitchell Golden and Lawson also had multi-hit games. Austin Jones had three stolen bases and scored two runs for the Warriors. Golden and Mitchell Metten also scored twice.

Lawson ended with the seven strikeouts and walked four batters. The Warriors walked 10 batters and committed five errors.

"They had several bunts for infield hits in the fifth inning and it got us rattled," Coach Jay Virgin said. "We need to defend the bunt better. Those consecutive bunts got them going and the wheels kind of fell off for us. Cole deserved better than that considering how well he pitched not only in this game but also over the last two games."

Lady Cats down Warriors

Fall to Gallatin; Win 2 in tourney

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

Haley Miles' towering three-run home run was the highlight of the Henry County Lady Cats' 16-0 win over the host Eminence Warriors on April 23. Miles' first inning blast landed atop the roof of a building several feet behind the left field fence and scored Mikaela Cline and Shelby Ray to make it 12-0.

The Lady Cats added four more runs in the second inning while Paige DeBurger held the Warriors to one hit by Alexis Shields and a walk to Jayden Browning. Marissa Puckett also reached for the Warriors on an error.

Miles and Ray had two hits each for the Wildcats while MacKenzie Cox and Cline had one hit each. DeBurger struck out three batters.

Coach Jon Kasten was pleased with the team's performance and complimented the Warriors' young team on the strides they have made this season.

"I really think that Jerry Martin is doing a great job as Eminence coach," Kasten said. "I saw a lot of improvement in their team from the last time we played them to this time. They had a few injuries so I know some of their girls who normally played were out.

"I thought our girls did a good job of laying off pitches out of the strike zone and hitting the pitches that were strikes," he continued. "Haley Miles hit an absolute bomb in the first inning. I'm very happy with the way she is swinging the bat right now. Paige pitched a good game. She kept the ball in the strike zone, got some strikeouts and forced them to put the ball in play."

Warriors' Coach Jerry Martin talked about the injury situation.

"We have lost Lauren Leopold for the year, we have another player who had surgery and is back but very limited, we have Serena Docktor who has been out with a knee injury but is coming back now, and we have a second baseman, Jamie Martin, who has been playing through an ankle injury," Martin said. "We had two fifth-graders playing in the infield for the Henry game. They did a good job but we cannot have big expectations to compete on the varsity level with fifth and sixth-graders out there.

"We did go to Frankfort and win a game on Friday against a team that was mostly seventh and eighth-graders," Martin continued.
